Bryan Fish, US Ski and Snowboard Cross Country Sport Development Manager: Bryan Fish is the driving force behind the US development pipeline and is leading US development skiing to unprecedented success. Under Fish the US World Junior program has risen to one of the top 4 teams in the world with regular international podiums and the first ever World Junior Championship Gold Medal for the US. Fish will be leading the Level 200 Conference and doing a keynote address Friday night. His keynote presentation entitled: The Success of USA XC Ski Development: Simple Lessons Why USA is Now a Junior Podium Contender will be free to all OISRA, MBSEF, BEA, and other junior athletes.

Pamela Lemons, PHD, CMPC. Dr. Lemons is an Olympic sport psychology consultant guiding athletes in several specialties on the US Ski Team and other Olympic sports. She is credited with being a key part of the current support staff for the Nordic team as they continue to achieve ever higher levels of success. Dr. Lemons will do a keynote address on Saturday titled Building a Positive Team Culture, and a second address Sunday morning focusing the practical application of the principles learned Saturday evening.
Any Newell: Olympian, World Cup Racer, Founder of Nordic Team Solutions. Newel is a 17 year member of the US World Cup Team, has stood on three World Cup podiums, has appeared at three Olympics and has been on seven World Championship teams. Today Newell continues to race and is the founder of Nordic Team Solutions a cross-country ski training and consulting company based in Bozeman, MT.

Newel will do a keynote presentation on Saturday evening titled Applying the World Cup to Junior Skiers. Also on Saturday he will do a dryland (on foot) session on ski specific training techniques and body position. On Sunday he will join the Level 200 clinic for a roller ski session of Agility Skills Development and the Games Approach to Learning and Teaching Ski Technique.

Adam St. Pierre, Head coach of the Boulder Nordic Junior Race Team (Colorado), Chairman of the National Cross Country Committee of US Ski and Snowboarding, and a coach for Carmichael Training System. Adam will lead the level 100 Clinic in the classroom and in the field.

TRAINING PLAN ASSIGNMENT:

The hands-on training plan assignment will be conducted in small groups (approximately four-six per group). Attached is the spreadsheet template for building four weekly training plans. One weekly plan for the spring, one weekly plan for the summer, one weekly plan for the fall and one for the winter. The goal is to create weekly training plans that use progression and periodization strategies, so the previous plan builds towards the next. Each weekly plan will include one training session that outlines how you would incorporate technical and tactical training strategies directly within the training session. Each of you will submit an individual plan to me via email, however, you will collaborate with your coaching group to create one overall group plan and then individually adjust training sessions of your choosing. In short, this is exactly how our national team or regional staff works with the ski community when generating a national or regional camp training plan. There is a general plan created and each athlete comes to camp with an individual plan that incorporates approximately 80-90% of the general plan.
XC Level 200 Clinics
